Ian has had a varied career including roles in engineering leadership, technical product management, portfolio management and strategy. The theme that connects his work is asking two questions. Why are we doing this and how will we know we've succeeded? Having implemented OKRs at the World's biggest scientific publisher, he now helps high growth startups move their focus from outputs to outcomes.

Utilising his broad experience he helps clients identify the capabilities that are holding them back. He's helped organisations create strategic narratives, to embrace uncertainty and to up their customer discovery game. His recent successes include several unicorn organisations in different industries.
